

Informational Seminar

NSF Graduate Research Fellowships (GRF)
Monday, September 9, 2019, 12:00 noon to 1:00 PM
120 Advanced Engineering Research Building (AERB)

- Are you a junior, senior, or a first or second year graduate student enrolled in a STEM discipline?
- Are you thinking of enrolling in for a graduate degree engineering or sciences program or are already enrolled in one?
- Are you a US citizen, Green Card holder, or a US National?

If you answered “Yes” to these questions, then this is a great opportunity for you to learn about how you could apply to earn a fully paid Graduate Research Fellowship funded by the National Science Foundation (NSF).

These highly prestigious fellowships pay for up to three years of full tuition and a stipend. If awarded, you could join a graduate program here at WVU or any other US university of your choice. This year, the GRF applications are due in mid-October. For details see <https://www.nsf.gov/pubs/2019/nsf19590/nsf19590.pdf> .

In this informational seminar, you will get to meet with WVU graduate students who have earned this prestigious fellowships and faculty members who will share advice on how to best prepare your fellowship application so that it is competitive.

Pizza will be served! Get there a little early for that!
Free lunch for a day and free education for three years!
It doesn't get any better than this!

RSVP to Nancie Yost nyost@wvu.edu by September 5, 2019.
